CLOSE ENCOUNTER WITH LOCAL CRITTERS TO HIGHLIGHT AUGUST 13 "TUESDAY TALK"

AUG. 2, 2019 -- "Up Close And Wild" highlights Saugatuck-Douglas History Center's August 13 "Tuesday Talk" in the Old School House at 130 Center Street, Douglas. The one-hour program begins when the school bell rings at 11 a.m. Public attendance is invited and audience participation is welcomed to enrich the discussion.

Presenter Joy Funk, Chief Naturalist for ODC Network, will introduce her audience to examples of our area's wildlife, bringing a cast of live reptiles, amphibians and birds to show and discuss, with focus on their unique characteristics and how they fit into our diverse ecosystems. Hands-on artifacts including skins, skulls, wings, feathers and talons of several species native to Michigan will be available to explore.

The ODC (Outdoor Discovery Center) Network is a non-profit education and conservation organization founded in the year 2000 with the mission to connect people with nature through outdoor education for the benefit of wildlife and conservation of the natural world. Since then, the organization has served more than 200,000 children and adults through outdoor education and recreation programs, with some 75,000 people annually visiting ODC Network sites to walk the trails and view the wildlife.

Thanks to the 2009 merger of the Outdoor Discovery Center and Macatawa Greenway Partnership, the organization now protects more than 1,200 acres along the Macatawa River in Ottawa County and a 150-acre nature preserve south of Holland's West Michigan Regional Airport. The preserve features a 5,000 square foot Visitors Center with taxidermy exhibits ideal for visiting during any season, the DeWitt Birds of Prey Center, the Eldean Family Play Park, plus habitats including meadows, remnant dune, upland forests, lowland hardwood forests, marshes and ponds, all laced with gravel and boardwalk trails.

The ODC Network also operates the DeGraaf Nature Center for the City of Holland, including day-to-day management and the coordination of all its education programs. Both the Outdoor Discovery Center nature preserve and DeGraaf Nature Center are free and open to the public.

A summertime tradition since 1996, SDHC's weekly Tuesday Talks present entertaining and informative insights into local community life throughout July and August.

Tuesday Talks' increasing popularity puts limited seating on "first-come, first-served" basis. While admission is free for current SDHC members, non-member guests are encouraged to attend with a donation of five dollars, or to become new members at the Talk.
